

Farm Cottage

Tresarran out of season . . .

Winters in Cornwall are generally mild. This is a wonderful time for walking the Coastal Path or for enjoying a pasty and a pint of scrumpy by a roaring fire in a local pub.

In spring, the hedgerows are packed with flowers. Bluebells transform our woods into a sea of hazy blue and the rhododendrons put on a spectacular show.

In autumn, the trees are at their best and you can pick your own apples, damsons and blackberries from our orchard.

Short breaks . . .

Short breaks are available from October to June with flexible start dates and durations. All our cottages are heated by storage heaters and we provide electric blankets and additional heaters for your comfort. In addition, both Farm and Shippen have wood burners.

Christmas and New Year . . .

At Christmas and New Year we invite our guests to join us for mince pies and a glass of mulled wine (or two!). We decorate the cottages and do everything we can to make your break truly festive. Either enjoy a Christmas meal in your cottage or we can arrange Christmas lunch for you at a local restaurant.

Close by . . .
